

Downloaded from <http://www.happycow.net/reviews.php?id=607>

Posted on: Wednesday, March 25, 2009

Review: I nice and quiet place (for those who like it so), excellent food and deserts.

Posted on: Saturday, March 07, 2009

Review: this is a excellent food restaurant, serving macrobiotic dishes in innovative way and mixed with the local cuisine. Food is delicious and complex, the plate comes in lots of colors. They have best soups in the city. They offer you the daily menu which is very big and you have to be hungry to eat it, but you are not walking away with a stone in your stomach but full of energy because of the organic ingredients and good cuisine. Menu list is big and good for vegans. They do not use any animal ingredient. You get a free entrée - roasted bread with tofu, olive oil, persil and garlic spread. They serve organic beers and wines also. But it is not so much a restaurant for younger audience or average pockets because daily menu is 12.5euros, so you do not eat there a lot. I think the people who are eating there are a bit fancy, but we can change that. For me best vegan food in Zagreb!

Posted on: Monday, August 04, 2008

I really like this place! Whenever I am in Zagreb I try to get there for lunch/dinner. So worth it. The atmosphere is really nice, clean but not cold, friendly and helpful staff, very tasteful and colorful dishes. Sophisticated in every way. No sugar, no dairy, no eggs, no alcohol. Best place in Zagreb!

Posted on: Tuesday, June 17, 2008

Review: awesome place to grab some dinner. Food is a little expensive (if you're used to travelling on a budget as we were) but the entire experience makes it worthwhile. Found on the 1st floor next to the yoga studios, the menu is vast and everyone is extremely friendly. Food is phenomenal too! If you're in Zagreb, you should definitely go!

Posted on: Thursday, October 05, 2006

Review: my hotel was 50m down the road, so I should have gone here more than once. Anyhow, there were 6 of us, so we had a good go at the menu...great tofu and seitan dishes, fresh vegetarian and vegan mayo/tofu dips. I also had some algae drink which was tastier than i thought. Very friendly staff who were happy to explain ingredients etc.